FOR CHURCHES

Your whole church, one tap away.

Put a HeyDot tap sticker on every seat. One tap of a phone opens your church's page: giving accounts, sermon notes, service info, your WhatsApp group and the first-timer card. No app, no typing.

Scan: see a real church page

Grace Assembly's HeyDot page. Tap “Give” and “I'm new here”: it's exactly what your members and visitors see when they tap a seat sticker.

Sound familiar?

"Please, what's the account number?"

Members ask again every Sunday, and someone types the details out by hand, again.

Everything lives in ten places

Service times, programmes, sermon notes, the livestream, the prayer form: scattered across chats and flyers.

First-timer forms get lost

Guests write their details on paper on Sunday. The follow-up ends with the service, and by midweek the papers are misplaced.

Tap. No app, no typing.

A phone held to a HeyDot tag opens your church's page in a second. Every phone in your congregation already knows how.

Seat stickers

On every chair back and pew. Members tap once to give, connect or find what's on.

Tap cards

For ushers and the welcome team. Hand a first-timer the card: one tap and they're connected.

Table stands

At the welcome desk, the bookshop and every event. Tap to give, register or follow.

Every tag also carries a QR code, for the few phones without tap.

How it works

1 We set up your page with you

Your church's name and colours, giving accounts with a copy button (and online giving on Pro), your first-timer card, photos, your livestream and any links you want.

2 We deliver your tap stickers, cards and stands

Branded for your church, ready to stick on seats, hand to ushers and place at the welcome desk.

3 People tap, give and connect

Members give, follow the sermon notes and join your groups from their seat. First-timers fill the card on their own phone and get a welcome by WhatsApp, SMS or email the same day, and your follow-up team gets a reminder every morning.

What your church gets

- Tap stickers for every seat, tap cards and table stands, branded for your church
- Giving accounts with a one-tap copy button, and online giving by card, bank transfer or USSD on Pro
- A first-timer card and a guest inbox for your team
- A morning follow-up reminder for your team
- Sunday and midweek links that switch by themselves
- Tap numbers by seat area, location and service
- Your whole team on one account
- A QR code on every tag too, for phones without tap
- Sermon notes, programmes and your WhatsApp group, one tap from every seat
- A welcome for every first-timer by WhatsApp, SMS or email, the same day
- Change any link any time, without touching the tags
- Photos, your livestream and the Verse of the Day on your page
- Branch-by-branch setup for churches with many branches

Why I built HeyDot

I serve in my church's media department, so I see Sunday from the back of the room. The account number goes up on a slide and comes down before half the church has typed it. Announcements are forgotten by lunch. And first-timers write their details on paper that has a way of getting misplaced. People who had made the effort to visit simply slipped away.

So I built HeyDot: one page for the whole church, a tap away on every seat. Members give with one tap and keep the sermon notes, everyone joins the WhatsApp group, and first-timers fill a short card on their own phone and get a welcome the same day, while your follow-up team gets a reminder every morning.

And when the week changes, so does the page. Your team changes what the tags open (this Sunday's service, Wednesday's Bible study, next month's convention) from the dashboard, without reprinting a thing.

I'll set your church up with you, personally.
